

Olivia M. Farrar

Olivia Farrar's work is devoted to law school teaching, and to mediation and arbitration, primarily business, employment, and contract matters. She serves as a neutral with NASD, the courts of Maryland and Virginia, and the Better Business Bureau. Previously, she worked with Hogan & Hartson on a wide variety of matters, including corporate, litigation, and international trade.

Before becoming an attorney, Ms. Farrar worked at the US Copyright Office as an examiner, and taught in the French and English Departments at Princeton University. She received her JD from Georgetown University Law Center, and both her PhD and BA in Romance Languages from Princeton University.
