Notice to Arguing Counsel
Regarding Courtroom Seating

Pursuant to longstanding court policy, only members in good standing of the Federal Circuit bar may sit either at counsel tables or within the well of the court when court is in session.

Parties, legal support staff, and other members of the public may not sit either at counsel tables or in the well of the court unless they are also members in good standing of the Federal Circuit bar. Arguing counsel are advised and reminded that they are responsible for ensuring that their clients, support staff, and other guests adhere to court policy.

As needed, court and security staff may remind court attendees of this policy and direct non-bar members to sit elsewhere in the courtroom.
